

April 4, 2008

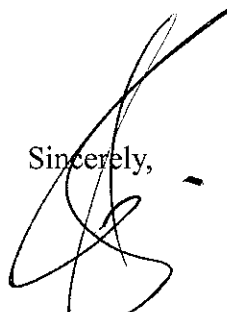

Dear Valued Customer:

As our industry continues to experience very tight raw material supply combined with oil pricing at an all time high, we must increase our resin price by a minimum of .06/pound. This year has been extremely turbulent in regard to raw materials. We did our best to hold off an increase with the hope that pricing may recede, but there isn't any near term relief from our current situation.

This increase will take effect for shipments after Friday, May 2. A current list of your individual pricing will follow as soon as possible.

I appreciate the confidence that you have placed in Ranbar and thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Terry Villella
Vice President/General Manager

